

THE KINGSLEY SCHOOL

LEARN. TO FLY

The Kingsley Way

An independent day school for girls aged 3-18 & boys aged 3-11

WELCOME TO THE MOST EXCITING
YOUR LIFE

Why is it that the great majority of families who look around our school register for a place?

SHOOT FOR THE MOON

Is it the familiar family feel, or the unusual combination of kindness and ambition that is evident in every aspect of life here?

Or is it the pupils themselves who are shaped and empowered by this hidden gem of a school?

When you come to look around The Kingsley School, in the heart of Leamington Spa (and with a very particular heart of its own), be sure to speak to some of our pupils who have become ambassadors – evangelists even – for us and our way of educating.

For a start, you will be talking to pupils who are aiming for high reach universities requiring outstanding academic grades. Yes, they will achieve their qualifications, but never at the expense of human qualities and values.

FLYING COLOURS

DESTINATION ANYWHERE

These qualities are often referred to by employers as 'soft skills' and yet today these skills are hard currency when it comes to landing your chosen career.

We foster both academic and emotional intelligence. One without the other will not suffice; both are crucial.

REACH FOR THE STARS

Then you will find something that is difficult to explain at first sight. Our school is highly diverse in its intake – we are known for being inclusive, not frighteningly selective at the point of entry. And yet...

LAUNCHPAD FOR DISCOVERY

Our 'value-added' scores (the predicted grade on entry versus the actual grade achieved) are amongst the best in the county. This means that academically we make the biggest difference.

You will want to know how that happens. Well, it is not magic, (although that is how some parents describe it), but recognition.

It is understanding that before children can perform to the best of their ability, before they can achieve to the heights of their potential, they must be recognised as individuals, with their very own set of strengths, weaknesses, hopes and fears.

READY FOR TAKE-OFF

CHOCKS AWAY

Our school will tailor its entire endeavour to pupils' individual needs. We listen and we act.

Time and again we hear parents tell us they knew that once they had found the right school for their child, they would take off and, lo and behold, this is exactly what has happened at Kingsley. We see it all the time – children find their wings here.

FIND YOUR WINGS

Indeed we say 'Learn. To fly.'
Our homely, down-to-earth environment is the perfect launchpad for stellar performance.

WHERE YOU FLY TO IS UP TO YOU

We have always been ready to take pupils who are still in the process of finding themselves. We know that as soon as a young person finds one thing that they are good at, they quickly discover more things.

The atmosphere here encourages effort and determination, with the result that becoming good at things becomes a habit. It is not so much about how good you are now, but about how good you could be. At Kingsley, every milestone, every minor miracle, every moment counts.

It is an error of our times to equate high stress with high academic achievement. This is not so and need not be so.

Our children, our students will find themselves here. They will find what they are good at and, crucially, what they enjoy. That is the recipe for university entrance and of course, for life.

You may not believe that this is how our school works so successfully.
Come and see us. Then you will.
